Users can access a virtual world that is cross-platform: Occulus, iPhone, Android etc. This increases the accessibility that many VR newbies to seasoned creatives crave to have. The mall has over six businesses and brands with their own unique services.

”Sancho Veloz” tequila of Jalisco, MX was one of the first alcohol and tequila brands to join the metaverse under the BlockBanditsClub wing.

Within the MetaMall is a ‘Sancho Veloz VR Tequila bar’, where users and passers-through may listen to and participate in live music, order tequila straight to their door and enjoy while drinking responsibly from home.

Other stores and food services also are joining the MetaMall space. The practicality of autonomous spaces such as Sancho Veloz bar, and businesses utilizing MetaMall space boasts positive ramifications: No extra staffing, Higher AOV, New SEO markets, Web2 to Web3 engine optimization, Zero material waste, fully rendered replicas of products to VR and or AR for customers, and a fun and safe businesses module with zero risk.

Growing from the NFT community on OpenSea to service with both MetaMall and in-house NFT marketplace, the blockbanditsclub brand has shown its scalability, vision and value in a very short amount of time since its inception and it continues to add value in practical scalability steps which are sure to dazzle.
