Why Must Standing Water Be Extracted Within 24 to 48 Hours? According to the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), mold spores can begin colonizing damp drywall, carpet padding, and wood framing within 24 to 48 hours of water intrusion. Rather than searching through unverified directories during an active plumbing failure, homeowners should take three immediate precautions—shutting off the main water supply valve, disabling circuit breakers in affected rooms, and requesting truck-mounted extraction and commercial dehumidification.
