Branden Condy, Miami Entrepreneur, Protects the Names of Billion-Dollar Brands, Elite Professionals and Stars

Miami, Florida Nov 28, 2026 (Issuewire.com) - Branden Condy, founder of Protect My Brand, works with names across business, professional services, medicine, food and entertainment. The clients and projects he has identified include Market America, Engineered Tax Services, Dr. Naved Fatmi of Boca Raton, Zaxby's, music artist Lil Pump and producer Ronny J. His work also includes billion-dollar law firms and Beverly Hills plastic surgeons. The range reflects the importance of a strong online reputation for companies, professionals and public figures whose names are searched by customers, colleagues and audiences.

Protect My Brand helps people and businesses take control of what search engines and AI tools say about them. It offers a free online reputation scan at protectmybrand.com. The scan gives a starting point for understanding what appears online about a name and where attention may be needed. As more people use AI-assisted search to find companies and professionals, the information and sources surfaced online can shape a first impression alongside traditional search results.

Condy has built multiple multi-million-dollar companies. His focus is on helping people and businesses better understand their online presence and take steps to address it.

"When your name is your business, what Google shows about you is your first impression. We make sure it's the right one," Condy says.

Protect My Brand works with individuals and businesses. A free reputation scan is available at protectmybrand.com.
