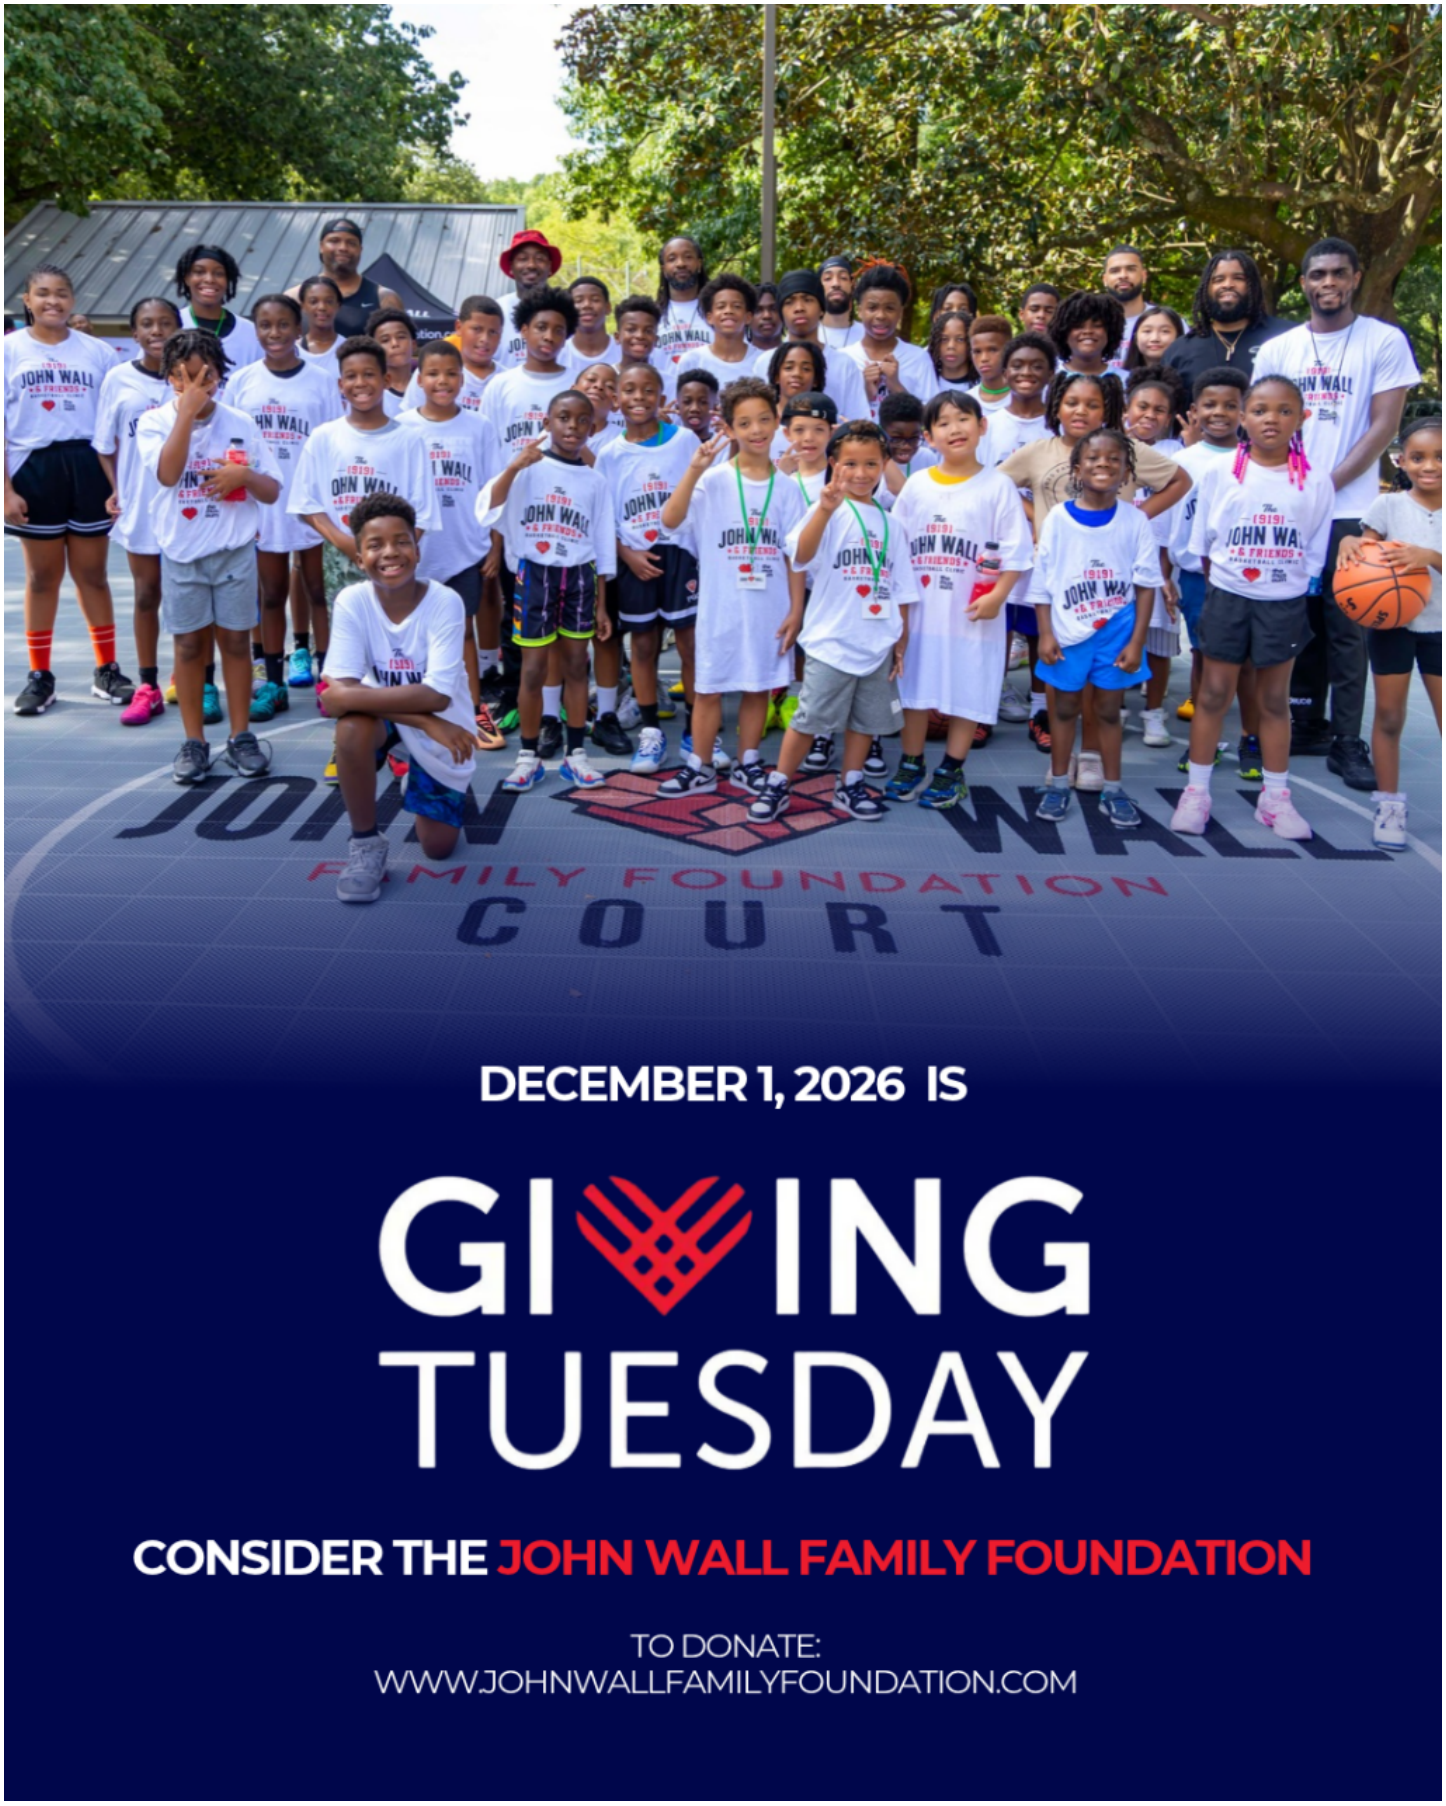
John Wall Family Foundation Invites Community to Give Back this Giving Tuesday and the Holiday Season

Donations, volunteer support and holiday shopping offer ways to support the foundation's work with youth and families



Raleigh, North Carolina Nov 25, 2026 (Issuewire.com) - This Giving Tuesday, Dec. 1, the John Wall

Family Foundation (JWFF) invites supporters to help make a difference for youth and families by giving back to the communities it serves.

Founded by a five-time NBA All-Star, entrepreneur, broadcaster, and philanthropist John Wall, JWFF is dedicated to improving the quality of life for families in need and supporting young people through mentorship, education and physical activity. From Raleigh, Wall's hometown, to the Washington, D.C., metropolitan area, the foundation brings people together through community outreach, youth engagement, wellness initiatives and events.

Giving back has always been personal to me. The communities that supported me helped shape who I am, and through the foundation, we want young people and families to know they are seen and supported. This Giving Tuesday and throughout the holidays, I hope you'll join us in finding a way to give back," said John Wall.

For more than 10 years, JWFF has supported families, empowered youth, and strengthened communities through direct outreach, mentorship, wellness initiatives, educational engagement, and meaningful partnerships.

Giving Tuesday is a global celebration of generosity and an opportunity to support causes that bring people together. Those interested in supporting JWFF during the holidays can:

- Make a donation: Give through the foundation's PayPal or Venmo giving pages.
- Explore volunteer opportunities: Complete the foundation's volunteer interest form to learn about getting involved in its community work.
- Shop with purpose: Visit Shop JWFF to explore official foundation merchandise and collaborative products benefiting the foundation.
- Share the mission: Help introduce JWFF to friends, family and colleagues by sharing its work and ways to get involved.

"The holidays are a time to reflect on the importance of community and the many ways we can show up for one another. Whether you make a gift, express interest in volunteering or help share our mission, your support means so much to our foundation and the work we do," said Sashia Jones, Executive Advisor, JWFF.
