

Bonbonjour - A monthly subscription chocolate calendar

Why wait for Advent?

London, Sep 18, 2018 (Issuewire.com) - Bonbonjour is the world's only chocolate calendar that gets delivered to your door every month. That's a chocolate-filled window to open for every one of the 365 days in a year. No need to wait for Advent! You can choose from either Cadbury's chocolate or continually keep your taste buds guessing with assorted speciality Belgian chocolates.

It's not all about chocolate either. Every month, look forward to a fresh and exciting illustrated artwork that makes you smile and you can display in pride of place.

In fact, if you fall in love with a particular calendar design, it's even available to buy in the Bonbonjour poster store.

Each calendar will also have exclusive content to view via augmented reality. By scanning your phone over the calendar design, you'll get to learn interesting, fun or plain silly insights about it.

Bonbonjour will be landing in mailboxes ready for January 2019. Subscriptions cost from £8 per month with free delivery within the UK. There is also the ability to gift a subscription of 3, 6 or 12 months- a perfect gift for those people you haven't a clue what to buy.

It's a little daily happiness for chocolate lovers everywhere.
