

Gigstream Announces New Partnership with IT Support Company Electric

Orlando, Nov 15, 2018 (Issuewire.com) - Beginning in Fall 2018, high-speed internet provider Gigstream is joining forces with IT service company Electric to offer its clients exclusive access to both first-class internet and IT support.

Unlike major internet providers that keep their equipment and source lines at one location, GiGstream has created multiple pathways of our own across Major Points of Presence (POPs) in each market we serve.

This means their residential and commercial clients have access to the faster internet at much cheaper prices than any other internet service provider can provide. Gigstream's client list includes companies like TOTE, the U.S. Maritime Administration (MARAD) and even the nuclear-powered merchant ship, the N.S Savannah.

Gigstream's innovative approach aligns well with the mission and vision of Electric, the chat-based IT platform that is first in its class for the speed of response. Electric's powerhouse team of IT experts manages everything from computer crashes and connectivity problems to software installations and long-term IT security solutions. They will keep your operations running smoothly at a fraction of the cost of other managed service providers.

Starting now, existing GiGstream customers will get more than affordable 1 GiGabit internet service on the market. They will also gain competitive pricing for Electric's real-time IT support with personalized service at competitive per-user pricing. Meanwhile, existing Electric customers will gain competitive pricing for rocket-fast 1 Gigabit internet speeds for their home or business, as well as complimentary installation, monitoring and support.
