

Lehman College and SCORE team up to support The Bronx Small Business Community

New York, Nov 16, 2018 (IssueWire.com) - The Small Business Development Center of Lehman College, School of Continuing & Professional Studies and SCORE NYC, a volunteer team of experienced business mentors jointly announced a “partnership” to counsel and secure funding for small businesses in the Bronx. In addition to providing access to diverse advisory services, clients can find low-cost office space at Lehman Colleges Incubator facilities.

"This is an exciting opportunity to support the Bronx business community, and I am honored to lead the initiative for SCORE" said Harry Dannenberg, SCORE Mentor and Chairman of the Community Outreach Committee

“The synergies brought by these esteemed organizations are amazing. I look forward to strengthening relationships among local entrepreneurs, SCORE NYC, and local funding institutions as we successfully execute on these ambitious plans,” said Clarence Stanley, Executive Director of Small Business Development Center.

SCORE mentors will regularly advise local clients on business planning, marketing, operations, and other business skill sets. In addition, SCORE will conduct free workshops on Branding, Accounting, Employee Law, Human Resources, Selling, Tax Planning and Starting a Business

About SCORE – Whether just starting out, in business or ready to sell or retire, SCORE provides Free, confidential business advice from seasoned experts. Clients can meet face-to-face or connect online as often as needed. For more information: <https://newyorkcity.score.org> or contact David Stone: Stone@scorenyc.org

About Lehman College School of Continuing & Professional Studies Small Business Development Center - The School of Continuing & Professional Studies (SCPS) plays an essential role in fulfilling the college’s mission of serving the Bronx and surrounding region as an intellectual, economic and cultural center. Each year, hundreds of companies have grown, thanks to procurement technical assistance, loan advice and other services such as social media marketing, business plan development, and connections with our Small Business Development Center. Ideally suited to customize training for workers, create curricula to meet multiple businesses’ requirements, CUNY on the Concourse can provide space for meetings, conferences, and other business needs, large and small.

For more information: <http://www.lehman.edu> or

Contact: Sbdc.bronx@lehman.cuny School of Continuing and Professional Studies.

SCORE

Media Contact

SCORE

serabin@scorenyc.org

Source : SCORE

See on IssueWire : <https://www.issuewire.com/lehman-college-and-score-team-up-to-support-the-bronx-small-business-community-1617317835524050>