

A Act of Love Adoptions | Foster Care and Adoptive Families

November 20, 2018

Sandy, Dec 31, 2018 (IssueWire.com) - A Act of Love Adoptions Staff attended the premiere of "Instant Family" a movies about foster care and adoption, November 1, 2018 at Jordon Commons Movie Theater.

In recognition of November being National Adoption Month a special preview of the "Instant Family" shown to those involved in foster care and adoption. This put the spotlight on children that need permanent homes. The National Council for adoption has made finding encouraging families explore foster care and adoption as options in creating their family.

"Instant Family" is a sweet-natured movie with exemplary intentions. Directed and co-written by Sean Anders (known for more studiously raucous familial comedies like the "Daddy's Home" movies), it draws from his experience of adopting children from foster care with his wife.

The story line imparts information about the plight of kids in the foster system and positive messages about adopting. By Glenn Kenny, The New York Times A Act of Love Adoptions has 30 people attend the premiere that found the movie educational and a positive for foster care and adoption.
