

ES Apparels Offers Waterproof Zippers in Futuristic TPU Material

Guangzhou, Jan 31, 2019 (Issuewire.com) - Consumers typically don't think twice about the zipper in their garments, but they're an essential closure and decorative item for many types of apparel. Jack Ren, sales manager for ES Apparels, is an expert on zippers and noted that the company has a comprehensive catalogue of water-resistant zippers and waterproof zippers from which to choose

“ES is one big apparel manufacturer that owns five garment accessories factories, allowing us to provide one-stop service for whole apparel production,” said Ren. “Our designer team can meet your ODM/OEM requirements very well. We can provide any service for the apparel industry.”

Zippers offer apparel manufacturers a decorative closure that’s also cost-effective for products ranging from sportswear, skiwear and diving suits to shoes, raincoats and elegant dresses to create a variety of seamless products. The company also provides sewn-in invisible zippers.

Available in a myriad of colours and lengths, ES Apparels also accommodates custom zipper printing. The company offers zippers in traditional PVC, coated zippers, metal zippers and the newest futuristic environmental polymer. The range of styles offers an ideal option for invisible zippers and water-resistant zippers on products of all types.

Known as thermoplastic polyurethane (TPU), the futuristic material is revolutionary in the apparel industry. It provides apparel manufacturers with an option for waterproof zippers that are also soft, breathable, flexible, and perform well in temperatures from -40° to 100° C. TPU zippers eliminate many of the difficulties that can be encountered in PVC zippers. It’s the preferred material for high-end products and is an eco-friendly material.

Whether clients choose the futuristic TPU, a coated waterproof zipper, the traditional PVC type, or a metal zipper, the catalogue of available options at ES Apparels ensures a solution for any garment accessory or product. Waterproof zippers and water resistant zippers are a speciality at ES Apparels, adding a new dimension and marketing potential for client products.
