

Fashion Model, Actress and Advocate: Adrienne White Raises Her Voice for What's Important

Los Angeles, Jan 14, 2019 (IssueWire.com) - World-renowned fashion model and actress, Adrienne White is no stranger to advocacy. She is constantly raising her voice for many important issues that affect the world.

Instead of being consumed by the humdrum of the modern world, it is important for one to know about worthy causes and immerse themselves in making a change. While Adrienne White is widely acclaimed for her work in the fashion and entertainment world, another very important part of her life is activism and social work. Throughout the years, Victoria's Secret model and actress has worked hard to maintain a balance between her work and her activism.

"Throughout my life, I have always felt the need to make a change on a bigger level. Whenever I hear of a worthy cause that affects the world around me, I am inclined to get involved and help make a change. With my public spotlight, I also aim to encourage others to do the same." stated Adrienne White in a press statement.

Most of her activism revolves around the topics of animal welfare, environmental protection, and social justice issues. She has worked extensively with the Humane Society, About Face, Save the Children and The National Resource Defense Council; organizations that she feels are doing important work to save the planet and help its residents.

For a span of three years, Adrienne was also working abroad with an organization that focuses on international issues. With still pursuing her modeling career with a never-ending passion and also starring in the feature film, Prodigy, Adrienne constantly uses her time and energy to work for the greater good.
