kolkata, Jan 20, 2019 (Issuewire.com) - Indian Chamber of Commerce (ICC) and Consultivo launched the Knowledge Report on 'Mapping the CSR space in India'

The knowledge report, 'Doing well by doing good - mapping the CSR space in India' has been published by Indian Chamber of Commerce (ICC), in partnership with Consultivo, Knowledge Partner, during the Social Impact Summit in Kolkata, on 11 Jan 2019.

The knowledge report on Mapping the CSR Space in India is based on the study with the objective to understand the CSR happenings in India in terms of legislative compliance, developmental initiatives with reference to respective thematic areas and alignment of Sustainable Development Goals (SDG). The report measures CSR compliance issues among Indian Corporates, it highlights the strategic role of CSR and the importance of developing objective and scientific tools to measure and evaluate it.

It analyses the aspects related to CSR such as policy, committee, director's reports, annual disclosure and spends of companies as on 31 March 2018. Various case studies have been discussed in the report which shows that the organisations are actively contributing towards India's demographic social development by investing in CSR which is a part of inclusive growth, both for the organisation and the society.

ICC & Consultivo had built a remarkable knowledge partnership in the areas of sustainability, particularly in the domains of Environment, Social & Safety, sharing a vision of promoting and strengthening knowledge-based sustainable development in India and beyond.

Fifty CSR projects in India by the corporate foundations, organisations, implementation bodies and NGOs have been showcased in the Social Impact Awards | Summit. The delegates as well as the award participants witnessed the highlights of the shortlisted projects. The audience had a unique opportunity to judge the merit of projects and cast their votes in favour of the better ones.

The report is dedicated to the future of CSR in India.
