

OfficePro joins NSCA Business Accelerator Program to offer Workforce Transformation & Training

Gaithersburg, Jan 31, 2019 (Issuewire.com) - OfficePro announced today that it has joined the NSCA (National Systems Contractors Association) Business Accelerator Program to help members offer professional development services including Workforce Transformation and Training Services. NSCA is the leading not-for-profit association representing the commercial electronic systems industry. The National Systems Contractors Association is a powerful advocate of all who works within the low-voltage industry, including systems contractors/integrators, product manufacturers, consultants, sales representatives, architects, specifying engineers and other allied professionals.

OfficePro, a Microsoft Silver Learning Partner, offers NSCA member companies training for both their internal employees and customers. The company features an entire catalogue of software classes to improve a user's ability in SharePoint, Skype, Excel, Cisco end-user and Technical, CompTIA and offers mobile testing labs to make it easy for employees to gain career enhancing certifications. OfficePro specializes in End User Adoption programs for Collaboration and Unified Communications which include premise-based classes, online and virtual classes, and an implementation service which enables end users to get live assistance on their premise.

OfficePro CEO Aaron Udler said, "We are excited to partner with NSCA to help its member companies recruit and retain employees, improve customer ROI and satisfaction. We specialize in helping companies empower their employees in improving their skills in both government and commercial businesses. We look forward to supporting NSCA, the NSCA Education Foundation and meeting with NSCA members at the 21st Annual Business & Leadership Conference in Tampa February 27-March 1, 2019."

NSCA Director of Business Resources Mike Abernathy said, “OfficePro offers our members tremendous opportunities in training and professional development, beyond the typical technical course selection in our industry. Data indicates that training helps employee retention and job satisfaction, and further indicates User Adoption services improve margins and profits for our members. We look forward to introducing Aaron Udler and OfficePro at our Business & Leadership Conference next month and expect our members to take advantage of his services to help their businesses grow. “

Chuck Wilson, NSCA Executive Director states “OfficePro fits nicely into NSCA business resources for NSCA members. Aaron and his team provide tools to integrators in business model transformation and also supports members in finding and retaining talent as this is a key business issue for members.
