

St Stephen's Art Show - Art is in the Heart for over 30 years

February 16, 17, 18, 2019 - 9:30 - 6:00 pm

Coconut Grove, Jan 28, 2019 (Issuewire.com) - Thirty years of art will be celebrated this February, Presidents Day weekend 2019, across the beautiful, tree-shaded campus of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church in Coconut Grove, Florida.

The show connects FineArt and Makers experiences in one campus and will be FREE this year to celebrate 30 years of Fine Art, Fine Craft, and Fine People.

"In 2018 we introduced the MakersFest section and were wowed by the response," said Show Director Daisy Holcombe. "The combination of Fine Art, MusicMakers and Indie Crafters was a hit." The MakersFest at St. Stephen's Art Show is a handcrafted experience of sound, color, and flavor. Unique Artists, Music Makers, and Crafters are producing original works of art combining traditional techniques with modern, unconventional styles, contexts and subject matters.

"This last year was the epitome of what Coconut Grove can do with when they focus on being both intimate and international," said 20-year veteran artist Marv Murphy.

The event continues to be held within steps of the Coconut Grove Arts Festival and is renown to buyers and artists alike who consistently rate us A+ for patron and artist treatment, amenities, facilities, and volunteer support. This long-standing, the nationally significant show focuses on maintaining “Art is in the Heart” as not just our theme but as our code of conduct for all staff and volunteers.

The show is sponsored by Eagle Brands, Coconut Grove Bank, Carlson Fence, Sidewalk Salads, Eaglenest Outfitters and Coconut Grove Grapevine.
