

Techracers Announces Corporate Name Change To GammaStack

Indore, Jan 29, 2019 (Issuewire.com) - In response to wide-ranging transformations in the business context, Techracers has changed its name to GammaStack, and has launched a new company website and introduced a brand-new Corporate Identity.

Kick-started in 2012 by four techies Mayank Jaimini, Dilip Chouhan, Gaurav Soni and Dinesh Atoliya, Techracers ventured its way into the IT sector with a handful of services for web and mobile development. We slowly made our way to become a leader in niche technologies solution provider and became a renowned name as a leading blockchain development company. With emerging technology trends, we realized the need of rebranding our corporate identity which will reflect our vision. This will reflect the complete overhaul of the whole company image, which is driven by the needs of a much-needed rebrand.

With effect from 20th January 2019, US-based company Techracers will change its corporate name to GammaStack, reflecting the IT sector's growth into a leading technology consultancy and its increasingly diversified corporate relationships. In alignment with the adoption of a new corporate identity, we have also launched a new website which will shed light on new industries we have taken into consideration such as Self-storage and iGaming. The company will continue to provide blockchain services and successfully execute our strategy to increase our presence in the enterprise as well as startup sectors.

Co-founder Gaurav Soni stated, "We believe it is extremely important to evolve, as we undertake these steps to make our way to various geographies covering several industries. Our brand is now aligned more closely with the Company's refined vision that aims to link businesses and their connections with our leading-edge technology solutions. The name change reflects the company's broader commitment and its expertise in driving technological innovations. We are committed to delivering breakthrough products and services that will help connect all the points in the IT continuum."

Since 2012, Techracers (now GammaStack) has provided its technology services to inspire the culture of innovation and to foster new relations in this era of the digital economy. Out of its enterprise-grade services and driven by its various business challenges, Techracers (now GammaStack) has developed a whole range of services that include technology consulting, strategy and research. The company's core business and strength remain strongly rooted in innovation and ideation-based which is fueled by its relationship with the global clients. With this new year, we are highly motivated to align our internal advancement with a brand-new corporate identity. Alongside these measures, the company is all set to underpin its role as a global catalyst for progression and leadership.
