

Artist noahxastano brings forward truth through his new track 'trapped in my mind'

The passion and grit in noahxastano voice enhances the relatability of the track 'trapped in my mind'. The alluring track is trending worldwide among music lovers.

Salinas, Dec 31, 1969 (Issuewire.com) - Not every artist is gifted with the incredible ability to connect with people through their music. But noahxastano is one such artist who has been amazing people with his music for quite some time now. One main factory that contributes to his success is the fact that he doesn't follow the ongoing trend in the industry. noahxastano focuses his music that deals with the everyday reality that people come across. The fact that he chooses hip-hop as a medium of his communication show that his track 'trapped in my mind' is about self-expression. Being from the United States where hip-hop is a popular genre, he has worked hard to make himself stand apart from the crowd.

His recent launch to the audience 'trapped in my mind' can be described as his best creation yet. It is the theme of the track that has set it apart from the rest of his compositions. Characterised with soulful soundscape and rap lyrics it can be called a fusion of both the genres of RnB and hip-hop. The soundscape of the track has a mesmerising melody to soothe your soul. The high energy infused by noahxastano along with the infectious hip-hop beats will get you hooked to the track from the very begging.

Along with 'trapped in my mind' there are several other creations like 'Catch No Case', 'Splash n

Dash', 'and 'preparation' for which noahxastano is known for. Though most of his tracks are taken from the hip-hop genre 'preparation' is based on the RnB and soul. This proves that unlike some artist who focuses on a single genre, noahxastano combines both the genre while creating his tracks. Though all of them are different from each other, each of them has a strong storyline imbibed in them. You can connect with the artist through his social media on Instagram.
