Surrey, Dec 31, 1969 (IssueWire.com) - In the music industry wintermoon is one of the recognized artists. He mixes two genres to create something unique and different. He is a grime artist with cockney pronunciation. His music much includes the old school grime. The whole thing within wintermoon's track has a solid groove. The rap flow and the verses in the track 'Suspect' are well crafted. The long-form melodic moments almost at the end of the track adds a sense of identity. The vocal tone in the track plays a huge part for which the release works well. The dark vibes in the track 'Suspect' make the listeners feel inclined to listen. The track holds the listener's attention from the beginning to the end.

The set-up and the energy in wintermoon's track 'Brand New Audi' captivate the listeners in every way. There is an enjoyable humbleness to the way the whole thing within the track flows. The way the track loops out and surrounds the listeners creates a calming effect. The hook within wintermoon's track 'Brand New Audi' is great simple but quite effective. The ideas in the track connect immediately and even the tone of the voice is genuine which feels very real and subsequently more poignant. The blissful delicacy of the music accompanies this process beautifully.

Surrey grime musician wintermoon's track 'Venomous' is accessible in its subject matter but the way he crafted the tone offers plenty in the way of individuality. Lyrics within the track are filled with amazing music and lyrics.
