

Brookside Multicare Nursing Center offers only pediatric long term care facility on Long Island

Smithtown, Feb 12, 2019 (Issuewire.com) - The Brookside Multicare Nursing Center, the only pediatric long term care facility on Long Island, is proud to offer PETAL (Pediatric Experiences That Affirm Life) care to its patients.

PETAL is more than simply a program. It's what sets the Smithtown, Long Island, facility apart. It is a home for children who require 24-hour nursing care due to chronic physical and/or cognitive disabilities and extended rehabilitation needs.

The PETAL environment offers medical, nursing care, rehabilitation, activities, socialization, education and much more. It was created with love, and operated by a caring staff, dedicated to ensuring that each child has the opportunity to live life to the fullest.

With state-of-the-art equipment and a home-like environment designed specifically for the young resident, the 36-bed dedicated and secured unit offers pediatric patients quality care, comfort, therapeutic programs, and socialization.

All children admitted to the program are personally interviewed along with the parent or guardian by an interdisciplinary team consisting of a nurse, social worker, and physical therapist.

Because Brookside Multicare Nursing Center is a multi-generational campus, children benefit from interaction with older residents. Creative and innovative activities include sensory programming, pet therapy, art and music programs, trips, computer classes, and games.

A professional educational coordinator meets each day with young residents in a classroom setting, where children have access to computers, a library, reading groups, education toys and more.

With brightly colored patient rooms, an art studio, classroom, and secure outdoor play area, children with varied needs thrive PETAL's multi-faceted program and nurturing setting.

Brookside Multicare Nursing Center's goal in offering PETAL is to provide children with the finest care possible and help them achieve well-being.
