BULLIONBLOCK PAYMENT GATEWAY PLATFORM
LOW FEES, PEER - TO - PEER, SECURE, INSTANT

Hong Kong, Apr 8, 2019 (IssueWire.com) - Over the last year, cryptocurrency strayed from its original commitments to decentralization and community empowerment. As big financial players like JP Morgan step into the ring, crypto is edging closer towards centralization. That's why BULLIONBLOCK, a blockchain based money transfer app, is announcing its Community Program – an effort aimed at sharing the platform with early adopters.

BULLIONBLOCK wants to maximize decentralization and steward a thriving, stable, and inclusive financial ecosystem in a bankless future – but it needs your help. After registering with the Community Program, you'll receive one token that entitles you to governance rights in the BULLIONBLOCK cooperative financial ecosystem.

In Q3 2019, the Singapore, Hong Kong, and Australian incorporated fintech BULLIONBLOCK, is set to launch its decentralized worldwide peer-to-peer remittance platform that will secure every transaction with physical gold and silver bullion on its own customized digital ledger blockchain eco-system. It will provide a new and innovative online payment gateway option for people around the world.

With the BULLIONBLOCK app, you can send, receive, or exchange crypto and fiat currencies however you want, whenever you want. Your BULLIONBLOCK wallet retains its value through thick and thin because BULLIONBLOCK backs your wealth with physical gold and silver reserves.

That means your assets remain safe, stable, and valuable against the shifting sands of global economic crises and cryptocurrency market volatility. At the center of BULLIONBLOCK's technology are both its Crypto Mint DEX and Stellar's high speed, ultra-secure blockchain. With these two leading technologies in hand, and physical bullion reserves backing monetary transactions, BULLIONBLOCK provides the worlds 2 billion unbanked adults with a powerful gateway to financial inclusion.

Internet and smartphone access are at all-time highs, making an already connected world even more so. These critical tools permeate even the most remote pockets of the globe, making now the perfect moment for bringing the unbanked into the fold. Under traditional banking, one in four people remains without access to the world economy. With the BULLIONBLOCK app, that paradigm will shift toward personal empowerment wherein a subsistence farmer in Asia can easily (and remotely) be paid by a Canadian specialty produce company for a small crop of organic rice. It isn't only the unbanked that benefit from using BULLIONBLOCK, however. In times of economic uncertainty and political unrest, the value of your government-backed currency is at risk. Cryptocurrencies don't fare much better because their values are still heavily coupled to fiat currencies, and crypto markets are notoriously volatile. Your BULLIONBLOCK wallet is shielded by gold and silver, two timelessly stable and inherently valuable assets. No matter how turbulent things get, BULLIONBLOCK keeps your money crisis-proof. When combined, bullion and blockchain form an impossibly secure, robust, and trustworthy network for quickly transacting money without the banks. BULLIONBLOCK believes that you should not only own your money but that you should also own a piece of the network you use to transact it. The Community Program puts the power of the BULLIONBLOCK financial ecosystem directly in your hands so that you, not the banks, decide the future of money.

The company business plan aims to service the One Belt, One Road corridor from Asia to Europe - Beijing to Berlin and beyond. Under the framework and strategy of the Belt and Road Initiative from the People's Republic of China, BULLIONBLOCK will create infinite business opportunities and an advantageous environment for users and partners in which to prosper. The company is committed to respecting the laws of China and all other countries worldwide.

The company is developing a user-friendly platform that anyone can use to embrace the digital evolution in both cryptocurrencies and real-world assets. The founding team believes that current artificial geographical restrictions, including the need for traditional bank accounts, can be eliminated with the BULLIONBLOCK fintech peer-to-peer ecosystem.

In an increasingly cashless future, the company embraces emerging payment innovations to offer differentiated value-adding digital experiences. The platform is designed for both the individual and business use.
