

Ecuron presenting at The Master's Conference For Legal Professionals

Houston, Feb 28, 2019 (IssueWire.com) - Ecuron's CEO George Kiersted will be presenting at The Master's Conference For Legal Professionals in Dallas on Thursday, February 28th. For more than ten years, The Masters Conference brings together leading experts and professionals from law firms, corporations, and the bench to develop strategies, practices, and resources for managing the information lifecycle. As a boutique educational forum and global legal conference, The Master's Conference provides the setting for a select group of speakers, vendors, and attendees to convene and engage in a proactive collaboration on current challenges in the legal space.

Kiersted will participate in the "Ready. Set. Strategize!" panel presented by QDiscovery and discuss effective solutions to all manner of entities participating in the legal value chain, addressing topics ranging from eDiscovery to Information- and Cybersecurity. Main questions the panel will focus on are:

- The importance of certifications.
- What are some of the certifications that a law firm should make sure their vendors have?
- Which certifications would you recommend everybody pursue?
- Do you lose business opportunities because your firm is not adequately certified?
