Delhi, Feb 24, 2019 (Issuewire.com) - 3M is one of the market leaders in manufacturing stethoscopes. Its brand Littmann is popular for innovations that have led to the production of identical stethoscopes that are consistent in quality and performance. They issue ease of use and convenience to medical professionals. The company's manufacturing culture and assisting technologies have fended off duplication. Many professionals and even students go for Littmann stethoscopes in India considering the comparatively high prices.

Smart Medical Buyer, an online medical equipment e-commerce portal spread across India, offers some of the best stethoscopes for the medical student in India and that includes professionals practising individually, with private or public institutions. These stethoscopes include several models by 3M Littmann. Apart from stethoscopes, the company offers BP monitors, CPAP machine, ECG machines, syringes, bain circuits, bandages, nitrile gloves, Laryngeal masks, catheters, sanitizers, sutures, and adult diapers among many others. The catalogue consists of common medical supplies for home and the most elaborate medical equipment for clinics and hospitals. The product list contains over 15,000 items that can be ordered online 24/7 and get speedy delivery with a promise of quality. There are over 100 medical equipment brands listed on their website.

With the unique supply channel, Smart Medical Buyer has simplified purchasing equipment online for remotely located humble clinics and institutions with a presence in over 250 cities. Moreover, the products are listed with appropriate description making it simpler for the uninitiated to understand and make an informed purchase.

3M Littmann is preferred by professional simply because of the following reasons:

- High acoustic sensitivity – varies in different models, which makes them appropriate for performing different functions; general and diagnostic auscultation
- Tunable diaphragm – allow the user to adjust the frequency without having to reposition the chest piece
- Comfortable ear tips – are adjustable to individual ears for comfort and excellent sound. Moreover, they are safe
- Adjustable headset – the headsets are adjustable to fit different head types and sizes; the ear tubes can be aligned with the ear canals for good sound and comfort
- Advanced tube – made from phthalate plasticizers, the tubes are resistant to alcohols, oils and impervious to stains
- Lightweight – all the components are made to be lightweight so that the finished product is itself light and not bothersome while using

All products including Littmann stethoscopes are available at discounted prices at Smart Medical Buyer with a promise of the highest quality. In the past years, the company is known to deliver exceptional low costs to sales ratio. It gives the option to medical institutions to buy supplies in bulk at great prices, which has made it more convenient for humble institutions to source equipment and supplies.
