Jib Machine Records Signs Slammin Gladys & Will Release New Single In March

Cleveland, Feb 28, 2019 (IssueWire.com) - Cleveland based indie label JIB Machine Records is pleased to announce the signing of legendary LA band, Slammin Gladys and the release of their first single in over two decades entitled "Dragon Eye Girl". This will be the band's first release for Jib Machine.

The new single will be released digitally and on CD. It will contain unreleased bonus tracks from the band's vast archives including "Hangin' On To You" as well as a live version of "Color Me Gone". The single was tracked at Hard Drive Analog and Digital in North Hollywood and Reel Music Studios in Los Angeles. It was produced by J.J. Farris and mixed by James "Jimbo" Barton (who has previously worked with Freddie Mercury, David Bowie, Rush, and Metallica among others).

Jib Machine Records, President, and Founder, John Templeman, is thrilled about the new partnership. Templeman stated, "We are ecstatic to now have Slammin Gladys as part of the Jib Machine family. The new music they have recorded is amazing and we can't wait to share it with the world!"
