

Joseph Bosso Works As A Consultant In Atlanta,Georgia

Atlanta, Feb 28, 2019 (Issuewire.com) - Joseph Bosso currently resides in Atlanta, Georgia where he works as a consultant. Joseph helps leverage his extensive education and technical background to help clients meet their business development goals and expand to new digital marketplaces. He is a graduate of Clemson University in Clemson, South Carolina.

Joseph earned his Bachelor of Science Degree in Financial Management from Clemson University and continues to cheer for the Clemson Tigers today. He later attended the Georgia Institute of Technology Scheller School of Business where he earned his Master of Business Administration. During his MBA courses, Joseph worked in a variety of high-pressure positions that helped him hone his skills in business development, project management, and financial decision-making.

During his employment at C&F Bank in Richmond, VA, Joseph worked as both a customer service representative and a leadership development program associate. He developed a new sales technique that led to a 90% increase in recaptures after customers declined certificate of deposit purchases due to non-competitive interest rates. The company adopted his technique company-wide and still uses it today.

While working toward his MBA, Joseph completed an MBA summer internship program at SEI Investments in Oaks, PA. In this position, he helped with corporate business analysis and made recommendations to executive management. He also developed a testing system to ensure employees understood their strategy-based automated trading engine. After completing his MBA, Joseph Bosso entered a project management internship at Market Cube in Mount Pleasant, South Carolina. He identified gaps in server communications and used in-depth data mapping to develop workable solutions. He also collaborated with software development teams and clients to help them realize their business development goals using cutting-edge software and technology.

In his current position as a consultant, Joseph Bosso helps his clients reach their strategic business goals, expand to new digital marketplaces, and develop comprehensive marketing strategies that take advantage of the latest trends and breakthrough technologies. When he isn't helping clients realize their business goals, he enjoys pickup basketball and skiing, visiting the beach and the ski slopes with his family, and cheering for the Clemson Tigers and the Atlanta Braves.

Media Contact

Joseph Bosso

josephbosso85@gmail.com

Source : Joseph Bosso

See on IssueWire : <https://www.issuewire.com/joseph-bosso-works-as-a-consultant-in-atlantageorgia-1626707230067336>