

Nurse and Health Coach Janice Liski-Skinner, RN Now Provides Care for the Calgary, Alberta Area

Get to know Nurse and Health Coach Janice Liski-Skinner, who serves clients internationally in Proactive Health

New York, New York City, Jun 30, 2021 (IssueWire.com) - Janice graduated as a Nursing Assistant from the Wascana Institute Of Applied Arts and Sciences in 1985, where she practiced in that field for two years. Wanting to further her education she returned to her alma mater and graduated with her Nursing Diploma as a Registered Nurse in 1987, giving her over three decades of experience in her field. She holds additional certification in Advanced Cardiac Life Support, IV Therapy, Chelation Therapy, and Neonatal Resuscitation.

To stay up to date in her field, Janice remains a professional member of the College and Association of Registered Nurses of Alberta. She currently works with a nurse practitioner which specializes in Women's Health, Pro-active Healthcare as well as Chelation. In 2011 she volunteered with the Project Medishare and went to Haiti one year after the earthquake and helped with emergency medical situations.

At the present time, Janice is speaking internationally about Proactive Health & Health Coaching those that decide to take a stand for their health. Janice attributes her professional success to like-minded, strong, forward-thinking women. She delivers a powerful, heartfelt message to open the minds of anyone that will listen that proactive health is needed. Her passion and tenacity are what she credits to her success. When not working she enjoys Mission Trips, Yoga, and Pilates and traveling

The main role of a registered nurse is to assist physicians in providing treatment to patients suffering from various medical conditions. While their primary responsibilities will involve caring for patients, their specific job duties will vary depending on your employer and specialization. While a majority of registered nurses work at hospitals they are not limited to that setting, they can also work in clinics, schools assisted living facilities, homes, schools, and more. They must also stay up-to-date with new tools and technology to help provide the best care to patients and families, and the best support to doctors and other healthcare professionals. Registered nurses must possess excellent communication, emotional intelligence, teamwork, problem-solving and critical-thinking skills.

Learn More about Janice Liski-Skinner:

Through her online profile, <http://todaysnurse.org/network/index.php?do=/4142589/info/>

Media Contact

Your Health Contact

clientservice@yourhealthcontact.com

Source : Janice Liski-Skinner, RN

See on IssueWire