Get to know Registered Nurse Karen A. Clinch.

New York, Feb 27, 2019 (Issuewire.com) - Karen holds her Nursing Degree, Associate of Science in Nursing, and her Registered Nursing Certification. She has been practising as a registered nurse since 1995, giving her over two decades of experience in her field. She attributes her professional success to her determination and hard-work.

The main role of a registered nurse is to assist physicians in providing treatment to patients suffering from various medical conditions. While their primary responsibilities will involve caring for patients, their specific job duties will vary depending on your employer and specialization. While a majority of registered nurses work at hospitals they are not limited to that setting, they can also work in clinics, schools assisted living facilities, homes, schools and more. They must also stay up-to-date with new tools and technology to help provide the best care to patients and families, and the best support to doctors and other healthcare professionals. Registered nurses must possess excellent communication, emotional intelligence, teamwork, problem-solving and critical-thinking skills.
