Seattle, Dec 31, 1969 (IssueWire.com) - Forthcoming artist BrandiWyne Band is stealing the spotlight with her newly released music video 'To Be Known'. This versatile choir geek turned songwriter discovered her flair for music at a very early age and eventually went on to be a singer. Her video is produced by the record label FastBack Studio and mastered by BlackBelt Studios. Her influences keep changing based on who she is working with. She is still growing as an artist and hopes to meet like-minded people like her. Her music is an exquisite mix of rock, blues, R&B, and pop music genre.

This artist BrandiWyne Band also sings with the music group named Jet City Band. Her latest music video 'To Be Known' is the result of a collaboration with her little sisters and the songwriter named Rosa Hardin. She merges powerful vocal performance with a cinematic soundscape on this magical music video. As the video gathers momentum gradually, it introduces the singer's softness and passion in a high level of intensity. The opening bars of this video by BrandiWyne Band come off as very gentle and spacious and the appealing melody-line leaves the listeners overwhelmed. As you follow the lyrics, the depth and originality come into play, delivering an enriching experience.

The audience witnesses the rising energy and the multiplying layers of the soundscape very soon into the video. The catchy synths and piano riffs work well with the overall performance. There is a definite sense of mounting anticipation and the melody-line hits the audiences with a lot of impacts. In terms of structure, production, and arrangement, the video is incomparable and it bursts onto the scene with a lot of color and vibrancy. The invigorating and creative songwriting and the vocal delivery make this video worth watching. The personal insight and the emotional touch create a very haunting atmosphere.
