

Zion Health Clay Dry Natural Deodorants Becomes the Favourite Beauty and Personal Product Globally

San Francisco, Feb 19, 2019 (IssueWire.com) - Zion Health Inc is one of the rising brands in terms of beauty and personal products. The brand that began its journey with the launch of toothpaste with the key ingredient clay worked wonders. With Zion Health expanding to 180 products, the most trending amongst them is the new line of aluminum-free clay deodorant. This range of Zion's deodorant is steadily taking the natural deodorant business to the next level.

In the fast-moving modern lifestyle, deodorant is a must and with consumers getting more inclined to vegan, natural and aluminum-free products, Zion Health's clay dry deodorants are indeed the best thing you can gift to yourself or others. This range of deodorant is formulated from calcium montmorillonite clay that is packed with more than 57 trace minerals and has been in the good books of mankind from time immemorial. It is indeed the best alternative to antiperspirants that contain toxic elements like parabens, propylene glycol or aluminum. Zion Clay Dry Roll Ons are now available in stick formulas that contain essential oils and extracts of grapefruit seed, alpine lichen, chamomile all that offers remarkable odor protection of more than 24 hours. "The particular deodorant goes on smooth" says Haim Zion, Founder Zion Health Inc. Amongst various flavors, white pine is the best selling in the powdery stick format.

Zion Health today sells 25 stick deodorants with a version of its deodorants containing baking soda shea butter, arrowroot, and magnesium hydroxide. The deodorant collection is known for its elaborate and interesting fragrances. From white rum to lavender, spring rain and sandalwood, all that promises to keep you fresh round the clock and even after your sweat-shedding gym secessions.

Zion Health clay dry stick deodorant can cost you from $6 to $10 online and is also sold in different brick and mortar stores all over the world. Zion is quite confident that his brand is going to make a big difference in the retail industry of deodorants The overwhelming response of Zion Health 's clay dry deodorants, however, has not convinced Zion and he will continue to improve the product until it reaches perfection. "We have the odor and rashes under control, now I want to make it slicker," says Zion. But for numerous users of Zion Health Clay dry deodorants, they are a pleasure to use.
