

Enough of Brexit saga – We can help!

A sensible and easy way on how to get the confused MPs to work together.

Walton on Thames, Mar 13, 2019 (Issuewire.com) - Despite the disagreement, confusion and even the dilapidation of the major political parties, there is a way of bringing the Parliament together and come to common sense to solve the Brexit impasse.

We don't know much about politics, but we do know how to bring people to work together for a common purpose. This might seem like cheap psychology, but we all know for a fact that if we can get a group to agree on a small thing to start with, it will be more likely that they will be influenced to agree on bigger and more important things... It's like having a starter before the main course when we go out for an important business meal!

This is where 'Mannys Sauces' comes in – We are offering to send one free bottle of our famous 'Piri Piri' sauce to every MP in the UK for them to take to the Parliament and try it out there. They all have to agree that this is the best Piri Piri on the Planet, and they all have one the same – no matter what party they represent! “It is like saying that the UK is the best on the Planet, so they all have to agree on this too and make the best decision possible” This is in my humble opinion, the starting point to get the political community to solve one the most important challenge facing the UK in recent history – before the entire political system collapses.

And who knows, maybe this small gesture will help some MPs to realize that the Country's interests should come before their own political gains. This Brexit uncertainty is causing a lot of anxiety, anger, frustration and stress on everyone and even depression on some. People start losing their focus, interest and trust in the political system.

It is worth trying something that might work – it's our Duty...
