

Ganga Ramidi, MD, Infectious Disease Specialist with St. Elizabeth Physicians

Get to know Infectious Disease Specialist Dr. Ganga Ramidi, who serves patients in Crestview Hills, Kentucky.

New York City, Mar 18, 2019 (Issuewire.com) - Dr. Ramidi is an infectious disease specialist in Crestview Hills, Kentucky. She currently practices with St. Elizabeth Physicians, the multi-specialty physician organization of St. Elizabeth Healthcare. St. Elizabeth Physicians is a member of the American Medical Group Association (AMGA). The AMGA represents many of the nation's leading physician organizations as an advocate of a group practice, promoting multi-specialty medical groups and other organized systems of care as the preferred delivery system for coordinated, patient-centered, efficient, quality medical care in America.

St. Elizabeth Healthcare is one of the oldest, largest, and most respected medical providers in the Greater Cincinnati region. For more than 150 years, St. Elizabeth has been the heart and soul of healthcare in Northern Kentucky. Founded with one small hospital in 1861, St. Elizabeth Healthcare now operates five facilities throughout Northern Kentucky - St. Elizabeth Covington, St. Elizabeth Edgewood, St. Elizabeth Florence, St. Elizabeth Ft. Thomas and St. Elizabeth Grant.

Dr. Ramidi received her medical degree from Mamata Medical College. She completed her residency at Howard University Hospital in Washington D.C. and her fellowship training at the University of Cincinnati.

Dr. Ramidi is board-certified in Infectious Disease and Internal Medicine by the American Board of Internal Medicine (ABIM). The ABIM is a physician-led, non-profit, independent evaluation organization driven by doctors who want to achieve higher standards for better care in a rapidly changing world. Certification has meant that internists have demonstrated – to their peers and to the public – that they have the clinical judgment, skills, and attitudes essential for the delivery of excellent patient care.

An infectious disease specialist is an internal medicine doctor (or, in some cases, pediatrician) who has been trained to be an expert in the diagnosis and treatment of infectious diseases. Through extensive training, they become experts in all kinds of infections caused by bacteria, viruses, fungi, and parasites. Dr. Ramidi specializes in infections that are difficult to diagnose or unresponsive to treatments, such as HIV or airborne infections from a foreign country.
