Dr. Jeffrey-Fort owned and operated a private practice in Jamaica NY for five years before relocating to St. Petersburg, FL in 1997.

Dr. Jeffrey-Fort married Dr. Kenyon Fort and took time off to raise their children. In 2008, she re-entered the dental field working in corporate dentistry, and with other private practices. Her desire to stay at the cutting edge of the dental field drove her to enroll in the Comprehensive Dentistry Program at University of Florida's Dental School. She took 600 continuing education credits and learned about the latest technologies and techniques.

Dr. Jeffrey-Fort strives to make her patients feel cared for, so they feel comfortable coming in for regular check-ups, rather than only visiting the practice when there's a problem. She aims to help her patients raise their "Dental IQ", so they can better understand the importance of dentistry and how it contributes to the health of the entire body. By educating them on proper dental health and making use of the latest technology, she ensures they will be smiling beautifully for years to come.
