#Prepare4Play

Why not be somewhere
you won't be censored

Melbourne, Mar 4, 2019 (IssueWire.com) - NoGrey - Empowering Play in a Kinky Way

You can now easily bring even your naughtiest fantasy to life with simple gesture based communication... with a few swipes and taps you can take advantage of some incredibly delightful features.

WINNER - Best New Product (2018 Australian Adult Industry Award)

Dynamically Graphed Interests

There are over 600 different fetishes within the app to explore. Even if you only wish to experience the top 3 (which over 81% of both Men and Women fantasise about), the way NoGrey charts your desired activities, communicating your level of interest and outlining your experience has never been easier!

Simple Gesture-Based Negotiation

NoGrey enables you to quickly build and share your ideal fantasy by shaping a 'scene' perfectly customised to you.

You are able to detail your desired degree of participation in each activity, clearly outline your limits and provide your expectations around the emotional interaction between you and your partner. Without typing a single character.

Introducing Accountability

One of our key objectives is making the scene safer. Enabling you to verify a potential partners' level of experience and 'respectfulness' (which is earned through reviews) will assist in vetting people before you begin exploring a scene with them.

Focus on Privacy and Security

We allow you extensive control over what information you display to others within the NoGrey app and there is zero access to your profile for the general public.

All users are able to specify what information is shared with approved contacts and Premium Subscribers will even be able maintain multiple 'friend lists', with profile versions that can be customised even further.

Not a Dating App

The best part... NoGrey is designed to be used with people you have already been introduced to. There is no way to be messaged without you first approving or inviting those you wish to interact with. It's all about the 'experience'.
