

The Social Network of NYC to relaunch in late 2019

Socialite Jane Pullman Standish and her husband David Standish announce they will relaunch The Social Network of NYC in late 2019.

New York City, Mar 6, 2019 (Issuewire.com) - The Social Network of NYC is the brain-child of Jane Pullman - Standish. The group's mission is to fundraise and bring awareness to non-profit organizations. And, it was launched in 2009, due to a series of events the organization closed its doors in 2012, and, has spent the last several years regrouping and reorganizing.

When The Social Network of NYC relaunches in late 2019, it will operate in two different capacities. The first will remain true to its original vision to fund-raise and bring awareness to non-profit organizations that will continue to be headed by Pullman. The second capacity will serve as a social outlet for select members in a club-like atmosphere by Pullman's husband David Standish.

Board of Directors

Remaining officers to be elected

Lifetime Honorary Board of Directors Members

(Granted based upon to prior work with the organization or outstanding community service in other organizations. These memberships are for the lifetime of the member and include voting rights as well as lifetime membership with The Elite Social Network -- the club membership aspect of the organization. No dues or formal duties are required of these members since they have already served their terms or have been granted special access to become a member.) These members will be announced at a later date.

According to Chairwoman Jane Pullman "we are anxious to relaunch and we have a far clearer vision for our organization and its members. And, by combining both aspects that previous members were seeking, we believe we will have a highly successful organization for years to come." Vice Chair of The Social Network of NYC and Chairman of The Elite Social Network added that he is equally excited about the relaunch, and, will be tapping key members in business and society to join the organization. Standish added "Applications for membership for The Elite Social Network will begin in the Fall of 2019. Applicants will need to go through a screening process that includes a background check. In this modern age of ID theft, we want to assure all members that each person is indeed who they claim."
