Take a look at Tony's comprehensive list below and begin planning your summer trip today.

Monterey, California

Located along California's beautiful central coast, Monterey is known for its gorgeous beaches and vibrant natural atmosphere. There are numerous affordable activities to take part in here, such as:

- ❑ Renting a bike and going cycling down the 29-mile Monterey Peninsula Recreational Trail
- ❑ Going kayaking along the shore or exploring the Monterey Bay Aquarium to marvel at the marine life
- ❑ Strolling along the coastal beaches and going whale-watching while enjoying the beautiful view

Myrtle Beach, South Carolina

Myrtle Beach offers a host of great features at very reasonable prices. In fact, there are plenty of hotels that can be booked for less than $1,000 for an entire week.

Grand Canyon, Arizona

Grand Canyon features outstanding views and provides a full set of fun activities including hiking, horseback riding, and river rafting. But rather than booking a hotel, take advantage of the area's many campsites to save some major cash this summer. Numerous campgrounds in Grand Canyon cost only $10-$15 per night.

Williamsburg, Virginia

The historical area of Williamsburg includes the highly popular tourist spot, Colonial Williamsburg. A one-day ticket costs only $50, and it provides you the opportunity to visit all the area's cultural sites, historical landmarks, shops, and art museums, all with the assistance of a cost-free shuttle. Williamsburg is also home to several beaches, vineyards, and theme parks for your recreational pleasure.

Albuquerque, New Mexico

Albuquerque is famous for its exceptional cuisine, which incorporates Mexican, Spanish, and Native American ingredients and spices. The city is also full of cultural museums and monuments, all of which are conveniently cost-free.
