

TransferNow – The Best Way of Transferring Files

New York City, Mar 7, 2019 (Issuewire.com) - TransferNow is a revolutionary concept which has helped people to come out their world of slow data and file transfer speeds. This is an online file sharing platform, which allows sharing of even large files with the utmost ease. They make sure that even the smallest sized data is encrypted for an optimum level of security. With the help of TransferNow, a huge array of files, including music and video can be shared with friends, family or colleagues. There is an option to share files with multiple contacts at the same time, in addition to sharing them at social media. It has increased the overall speed of transfer of files.

TransferNow, provides the option to its users, to choose from the main subscription types. The features of which are described below.

The Guest Membership: This basically means that you can avail the advantages provided the service for free. However, there are certain limitations, as you do not have to pay any price. Firstly, you can only transfer a file with a maximum size of four gigabytes, at once. It allows transfer of a maximum of two hundred and fifty files. You can transfer your files five times per day, and each time only twenty recipients can receive them. Your free file transfer service is limited only until seven days from your registration. A free subscription will truly treat you as a guest. You will not be allowed to customize, monitor or manage your transfers. You cannot even avail the option of receiving files.

The Premium Membership: This is the kind of membership where you truly get to realize the power of this service. You need to pay a subscription for this, but it gives you unlimited access to all its benefits. With a paid subscription you can send files of up to a whopping twenty gigabytes of size at one time, which is limited to five hundred files.

At once you can send your files to up to fifty recipients, with no daily transfer limitations. Features like address book and contact lists are quite helpful. You can manage your dashboard and keep a record of your transfers.

For more information on their fantastic list of services, visit their official website: <https://www.transfERNOW.net/en/>

About the Company:

TransferNow is a modern and immensely secure way of transferring both large and small files. It is an easy, convenient and quick way of sending large files online and that too for free.

Media Contact

TransferNow

transfERNOWen@gmail.com

Source : www.transfERNOW.net/en/

See on IssueWire : <https://www.issueWire.com/transfERNOW-the-best-way-of-transferring-files-1627345552370593>