

Bettors Anonymous Relaunches Website on New Domain, bettors-anonymous.org

Website for all-volunteer fellowship helping those overcome gambling problems is now at bettors-anonymous.org, replacing old “bettorsanonymous” dot-org domain

Wilmington, Apr 23, 2019 (Issuewire.com) - Bettors Anonymous, a fellowship of men and women dedicated to helping each other recover from their common problem of compulsive gambling, announced that its website can now be found at bettors-anonymous.org, now with a dash (“-”) between the words “bettors” and “anonymous”.

Bettors Anonymous’ recently acquired its new domain name bettors-anonymous.org out of necessity after losing control of its old domain name “bettorsanonymous” (with no dash) .org under sad circumstances. In 2018, the Bettors Anonymous original member who managed the old domain name passed away after an extended illness; during that time, the domain expired. This was discovered by other members too late to renew the domain.

Bettors Anonymous’ former domain name “bettorsanonymous” dot-org went up for public auction in February 2019. The domain was awarded to the high bidder, an unknown outside party that has no affiliation whatsoever with Bettors Anonymous.

The Bettors Anonymous website can now be found at its new domain name: bettors-anonymous.org.

About Bettors Anonymous

Founded in 1990 with chapters in the USA and Canada, Bettors Anonymous is a self-supporting, non-denominational, apolitical fellowship of men and women dedicated to maintaining their abstinence from compulsive gambling, as well as helping those who still suffer from a gambling problem, by following a suggested twelve-step recovery program modeled after that of Alcoholics Anonymous®. Bettors Anonymous membership is freely available to anyone who desires to stop gambling, with no dues or fees required. For more information, please visit bettors-anonymous.org. (Note: “Alcoholics Anonymous” is a registered trademark of A.A. World Services, Inc. Bettors Anonymous is not affiliated with Alcoholics Anonymous).
