

Newest Track 'Winning At The Races' By D'NME is Entertaining and Realistic At the Same Time

The versatile styles imbibed by D'NME in his latest creation 'Winning At The Races' is mind-blowing. This composition has subtle elements of other genres as well.

Toronto, Dec 31, 1969 (IssueWire.com) - The famous artist, D'NME who is also known as Roderick Anson has created quite a buzz in the music industry with his creations. Using his production house 9th Law Records he lets his creativity shine by experimenting various genres and bringing forward hit fusions for the audience. His latest creation 'Winning At The Races' can be described as one of the most authentic hip-hop tracks out there in the industry. Though he is a hip-hop rapper unlike other artists in the industry, D'NME creates tracks with themes that deal with the harsh realities. 'Winning At The Races' is a motivational creation as the artist wants to change the perspective of the current generation with his creations.

The track 'Winning At The Races' has a heavy bass line that can be heard throughout the creation. There is a deep contrast between the layers making the track more captivating in the process. There is a rhythmic embrace between the melody and the lyricism of the track alluring enough to get any listeners hooked to it from the very beginning. The artist D'NME has imputed an effortless style into the creation. However, it is the relatable factor of the track that had attracted millions towards it. 'Winning At The Races' is slightly dark in nature and the ambience of the compositing lies in perfect synchronization with the soundscape of the track.

D'NME had been making diverse creations ever since he stepped into the music industry. It is this flexibility of style and techniques that make his compositions one of a kind in its creations. It is his diverse technique that makes him one of the best Toronto rappers. His evolvement as an artist can be seen with the increasing number of fan followers' in his social media profile. You can connect with D'NME through Twitter, Facebook and Instagram.

Check out the soundcloud Music :

<https://soundcloud.com/9thlaw/winning-at-the-races-feat-kingrythefirst>

Media Contact

Music Promotion Club

info@musicpromotion.club

Source : D'NME

See on IssueWire : <https://www.issuewire.com/newest-track-winning-at-the-races-by-dnme-is-entertaining-and-realistic-at-the-same-time-1630499223343209>