

The DAES Group Announces Strategic Cooperation with ATG

ATG Ltd. aims to grow its market penetration with the support of The DAES Group

Coconut Creek, Apr 15, 2019 (IssueWire.com) - During the occasion of the MRO Americas 2019, The DAES Group, a premier aerospace global provider, and ATG Ltd., an engineering company from the Czech Republic, specialized in NDT (Non-Destructive Testing) solutions, announced a strategic partnership to strengthen and grow their business activities.

The partnership is effective immediately and is aimed at supporting the aviation industry globally. "We're excited about our collaboration with ATG Ltd. and we are confident that the aerospace industry will benefit from this cooperation," said Juerg Bartlome, The DAES Group CEO. "Focusing is a key success factor. The DAES Group is focused on state-of-the-art engineering solutions that deliver reliable results and generates fast ROI for our customers and, ATG Ltd. aligns perfectly with our goals and values" added Bartlome.

ATG Ltd., headquartered in Prague, offers a complete product portfolio with breadth and depth that ranges from simple devices to highly complex automated NDT systems and services that includes qualification of NDT personnel, NDT testing and consulting (compliant to EASA and NADCAP requirements). The cooperation between these two entities symbolizes a step forward with their continued commitment to providing innovative, cost-effective and high-quality solutions to the aerospace industry worldwide.

Zbyněk Zavadil, General Director of ATG Ltd. commented, "The synergy between our companies makes this alliance a natural fit. We are pleased to cooperate with The DAES Group and look forward to working closely with them to increase ATG Ltd. presence across the globe. At ATG Ltd. we help companies achieve their goals while enhancing operational safety, reaching effectiveness, reducing cost, and improving overall performance."

The DAES Group, as the new representative and distributor for ATG Ltd., offers a comprehensive portfolio of solutions for the aerospace industry, including complete service support, equipment selection, facility preparation, installation, training, and preventive maintenance.

The complete range of products and services offered by ATG Ltd. comprises solution for all conventional NDT methods used in aerospace (ET, FPI, MPI, RT, UT) as well as special applications (e.g. IRT, DR/CR – digital/computed radiography, PAUT – Phased Array UT).

The DAES Group of Companies is a premier global service that supports aerospace manufactures and commercial, military, and MRO operations; providing turnkey solutions, centric support, and proactive service. Since its foundation, in 1994, the group goal is to be the one-stop support for the aerospace industry worldwide. The DAES Group scope of expertise covers consulting support, program, business, and operations management, technical assistance, quality control, training, and facilities improvement. The group is formed by five companies: DAES Consulting, DAES Distribution, DAES Logistics, DAES Representations, and DAES Services. For more information, please visit www.daesgroup.com.

ATG has been providing a complete NDT (Non-Destructive Testing) solution for the aerospace industry including both OEM and MRO organizations for more than 25 years. ATG supports its clients in complete implementation of the special process. That includes design, manufacturing, assembly, and installation of customized testing equipment, personnel qualification according to EN4179/NAS410 approved by Czech NANDTB, testing and inspections of critical components, and consultancy (NDT Level 3) services including NADCAP implementation support. www.atg.cz

Media Contact

DAES GROUP

marketing@daesdistribution.com

+1 954.998.4605

6601 Lyons Road, Suite A5 Coconut Creek FL 33073

Source : DAES GROUP

See on IssueWire : <https://www.issuewire.com/the-daes-group-announces-strategic-cooperation-with-atg-1630899427111122>