Get to know Orthodontist Dr. John B. Harrison, who serves patients in Saint Petersburg, Florida.

New York City, May 16, 2019 (Issuewire.com) - Dr. John Harrison practices Orthodontics in Saint Petersburg, FL. Comprehensive orthodontic treatment includes metal wires that are inserted into orthodontic brackets, which can be made from stainless steel or a more aesthetic ceramic material.

The wires interact with the brackets to move teeth into desired positions. Being advanced in the field, Dr. Harrison may also use Invisalign or other aligner trays that have been designed to align the patient's smile.

As an orthodontist, Dr. Harrison must recognize various characteristics of malocclusion or dentofacial deformity, define the nature of the problem, including the etiology if possible, and design a treatment strategy based on the specific needs and desires of the patient.

John graduated from St. Pete High, Vanderbilt, Emory Dental School and received his Master's Degree in Orthodontics from the University of North Carolina.

He has maintained an active participation in dental education as courtesy professor of orthodontics at the University of Florida Dental Residency Program, Seminole campus since its inception in 1991 and has also been a long time active member of the prestigious Seattle Study Club of Restorative Dentists, who meet once a month for advanced learning and multidisciplinary treatment planning.

He recently served 8 years on the American Association of Orthodontists Council on Health Care and Code Committee and was awarded for Distinguished Service by the Southern Association for his authorship of the Insurance Manual for Orthodontic Practice.

Other Service awards come from the Florida Orthodontic Association, the Pinellas County Dental Association and the Rotary Club of St. Petersburg, a past president and board member of each organization. At present, he is Rotary's Special Olympics Committee, chairman.

Dr. John, a.k.a. "Dr. Jaws" to many kids is a Trustee for First United Methodist Church- one of the few lifelong members where Bible Study, Sunday School, and the Scouting Program are his interests but home is blessed by over 50 years of marriage to a second grade North Ward sweetheart, three grown children and eight grandkids who all love the full range of boating and camping activities.

Couldn't leave out two fun bands, The Awesome Second Time Arounders and the Second Winds where "trombones rule".
