This is the underlying thought that motivated us to lay the foundation of MIT Vishwashanti Gurukul. We have been fostering the students with value-based education for more than a decade. We are inspired by the thought that in this modern-world, imbibing the children with the much-needed traditional principles of a Gurukul, training them with a global perspective in Gurukul environment and connecting them to their culture and heritage is essential to develop the children holistically. We combined this traditional system of learning with modern amenities to create well-balanced individuals with a global perspective, who are still rooted in their heritage. This rich amalgamation facilitates us to mold the students into confident and winning personalities. Through our unique learning pedagogy, we'll continue to create mentally alert, physically strong, spiritually elevated and socially conscious individuals."
