

Noirtainment Licenses Eamonn Welliver's Music for Miranda Spigener-Sapon's Prequel Book Trailer

The book trailer features music by Eamonn Welliver, for Charles: A Marisa Romanov Story, a novel coming soon from Winterwolf Press written by Miranda Spigener-Sapon, who will direct the trailer.

Los Angeles, May 6, 2019 (Issuewire.com) - Miranda Spigener-Sapon is to direct trailer of her book, Charles: A Marisa Romanov Story, a prequel to the new Amazon Prime series Marisa Romanov. The book is first of four novels with Winterwolf Press to go along with the series, Marisa Romanov.

The trailer will include music from Eamonn Welliver and will premiere at Book Con/Book Expo America May 31 – June 2, 2019, in New York City. The trailer will give viewers a taste of what the book will entail and also give viewers a teaser of what the Amazon Prime series will be.

The book delves into the vast universe that holds mysterious and dangerous secrets about the multiverse and alternate dimensions. This forbidden knowledge is guarded by a team of entities that walk among us. One of these beings is known as...Charles.

Eamonn Welliver was born in Los Angeles, California and grew up in Connecticut & Massachusetts. "Mocking Pig" is one of his first compositions. Eamonn started playing guitar in 3rd grade. He started composing his own songs upon learning how to play guitar, although didn't begin to pursue music until 2019, when he began composing and producing his music, under the name "God and Her Pistol." Eamonn is repped by Paradigm.

Paradigm helped in the licensing the deal along with Jude Christodal, who is Music Supervisor/Composer on the Marisa Romanov series.

Miranda is an award-winning writer whose first scripted television series for Amazon Prime, Marisa Romanov, is set to appear later this year. The series is inspired from the 2001 Venice and Berlin Festival winning short. Additionally, Miranda was signed by Winterwolf Press to write a 4-book prequel series to Marisa Romanov with the first novel: Charles: A Marisa Romanov Story, to debut November 2019 in stores nationwide with the feature film rights currently under studio option. Miranda is President of Production at Noirtainment Productions. Recently, Miranda directed the documentary feature Masculinity That Inspires Change, written by Gunter Swoboda, soon available on Amazon Prime. Miranda is repped by literary agents Karen Patmas and Paula Allen at National Talent LA, manager Will McPherson at M3 Artists and attorney David Kim at The Hollywood Lawyer.

Media Contact

Lauren Packer for Studio 3 Hollywood

producer@studio3hollywood.net

Source : Noirtainment, Winterwolf Press

See on IssueWire : <https://www.issuewire.com/noirtainment-licenses-eamonn-wellivers-music-for-miranda-spigener-sapons-prequel-book-trailer-1632648138604200>