As individuals, we want more. What each of us wants more may differ, but all of us do want more in life; maybe more money, more time, more choice to do what we want to etc. In today's world that is full of diverse choices, many a time it becomes difficult for us to make the right choice for ourselves. All this may be attributed to the lack of a clear structure regarding getting what we want.

Edward JC Smith, the founder of the Champion Academy, aims to bring out the champion inside of every individual and helps people live their lives on their own terms. Ed teaches you what the school failed to; the secrets to earning the money you deserve.
