About The Author: Yolanda T. Marshall is a Guyanese-born, Canadian Author.

She was inspired to write her first children's book named "Keman's First Carnival", after becoming a mom. This 2016 publication is about a young, Black Canadian child's first experience of Toronto's annual Caribbean Carnival. The excited 8-year-old and his Mother enjoyed the rituals at the Caribbean celebration, such as picking a flag to wave, the Caribbean influenced foods, dancing, costumes, and music.

"A Piece of Black Cake for Santa", was published in 2017 and it is the Author's second Children's book. This book illustrates the holidays' experience of Femi and her friends, who planned to leave a few traditional Caribbean treats out for Santa, including Black Cake.

Miss Marshall's 2018 release is "Sweet Sorrel Stand". In this children's book, Rose and Nicolas loved their favourite Caribbean sorrel drink so much, the siblings decided to create a sorrel stand with the assistance of their parents. lemonade.

In June 2019, the Author is launching "Miles Away In The Caribbean". This children's book is a poetically written story about a Canadian boy name Miles.
