

Physiotherapy Equipment Market: Product, Applications, End User, Growth, Analysis & Forecast by 2030

Pune, Jun 18, 2019 (issuewire.com) - Market Industry Reports (MIR) has published a new report titled “Physiotherapy Equipment Market - Global Industry Analysis, Size, Share, Growth, Trends, and Forecast, 2019–2030.” According to the report, the global physiotherapy equipment market was estimated to be over US$ 15 Bn in 2018. It is anticipated to grow at a significant CAGR from 2019 to 2030.

The continual growth of the physiotherapy equipment market can be attributed to several factors such as increasing sports injuries, rising prevalence of chronic diseases and growing geriatric population. Additionally, increasing road accidents in the global scenario are likely to drive the market. One of the major factors that support the growth of this market is the rising number of functional disabilities in the global geriatric population. To obtain better insights regarding the market scenario, prominent players are increasingly focusing on innovations and technological advancements. For instance, the University of South Florida is using virtual reality technology to study how VR can help patients who have disabilities or have suffered strokes or traumatic injuries. However, a shortage of trained professionals and less awareness of different physiotherapy options is likely to restrain the growth of the overall market.
