

The Junkman Celebrating 20 Years Of Journey

Melbourne, Jun 4, 2019 (Issuewire.com) - The Junkman is a company that has helped many families to get rid of unwanted items from their houses. The company ensures to contribute their share to the society by donating the items to the charity houses from time to time. The company started with a small vision to help people get rid of junk from their houses. Slowly and gradually, it became helpful hand during tough times. Whatever the situation is, The Junkman always know how to value the items and offers the best deals to the clients. With the passing time, the company has become an expert in dealing with house clearing or any downsizing situation.

Owner of the company says “The journey so far has been memorable which has helped us to understand how people can have an emotional connection with things and items of their house”. The Junkman has a unique business model that help people in various scenarios such as deceased estates, emptying storage units, rubbish removal, downsizing, retirement, de-cluttering, assisting OCD hoarders and furniture removal/transport. The company is fully insured for property damage and public liability, which makes The Junkman one of the most reliable companies too.

In Victoria, there are companies that start and gets close every day, The Junkman has survived the adversity of the market and did a great work to make its mark on the society and communities near Victoria and Melbourne.

About The Junkman – The Company is a very adored name in the house clearing businesses. They are following a unique business module that allows them to be flexible and meet any unexpected scenarios during the work. The company claims to be the best in the city and take pride in having an efficient team. The Junkman’s team includes professionals with the right sense of time and money who are excellent in handling various clients and cases. They operate their business from their marvellous website, which allows users to check their services and fill-in query regarding their business or appointments.

The Junkman has walked a long way and still doing recommendable work, which is attracting more and more clients to their business. Two popular services are OCD – Hoarders and Deceased Estates. The Junkman professionals have seen numerous cases where OCD people can get sensitive. Therefore, the company has trained its staff to manage sensitive cases or clients with proper care and sense. Also, during the tough times, The Junkman staff tackles the work so easily and tactfully that their clients don't get bothered by the process of removal or downsizing.

The Junkman has lived so far with the values of customer centricity, integrity and transparency. Even in the future, the company wishes to follow the same path and become the first choice of customers.

Contact here for more information:

Email Address: sales@thejunkman.com.au

Contact Number: 0407 501 153

Media Contact

The Junkman

sales@thejunkman.com.au

0407 501 153

19 Capella Crescent, Melbourne, Moorabbin, Victoria 3189

Source : The Junkman

See on IssueWire : <https://www.issuewire.com/the-junkman-celebrating-20-years-of-journey-1635409407843208>