KICK STARTER

Hollywood, Jun 10, 2019 (Issuewire.com) - Southern California-based artist and writer Will Penny is excited to announce his “Magic ZOMBIE! Glass” — a mystical drinking vessel that turns a regular tiki cocktail into a potent voodoo potion. By simply pouring a cold beverage into the glass, a zombie magically appears.

Penny is seeking to fund his offbeat concept through a Kickstarter campaign, from June 1st through the 30th. At the time of this press release, the campaign has already hit 150% of the initial funding goal. "I'm pretty excited to see such enthusiasm for the glass," Penny says. "I think it's going to be a really fun product for people to use and display in their home tiki bars."

The glass is inspired by Donn Beach, the father of tiki culture and inventor of the Zombie cocktail. However, Donn didn't serve his Zombie in a tiki mug - instead, he presented his so-called "mender of broken dreams" in a tall, chimney-style glass.

The "Magic ZOMBIE! Glass" is an authentic replica of Donn's original glassware and features artwork by Nik Poliwko and Sveta Shubina, that pays homage to pre-code horror comics and late-night b-movies. The glass also includes Donn's 1934 Zombie recipe (courtesy of Jeff "Beachbum" Berry, Sippin' Safari).

The "Magic ZOMBIE! Glass" is exclusively available on Kickstarter through the end of this month: www.kickstarter.com/projects/magiczombieglass/magic-zombie-glass. Every pre-order placed through the campaign will receive the magic glass, special limited artwork, and original exotica music - everything necessary to throw your own haunted luau this summer.
