

Thomann-Hanry® host the 8th edition of their annual industry Summer Party

The most celebrated summer event within the Property and Construction industry with a touch of glamour

London, Jul 12, 2019 (Issuewire.com) - Thursday, July 4th witnessed the 8th edition of Thomann-Hanry®'s Annual Summer Party on the rooftop terrace at the Ham Yard Hotel, in Soho, London. Seen as an annual must-attend gathering for those associated with the property management and property conservation industry, this July's prominent event allowed industry authorities such as surveyors, architects, property owners, facilities managers and property consultants to network with each other.

150 guests enjoyed private access to the stylish rooftop terrace of Firmdale's modern British-style gem – The Ham Yard, in the midst of Soho. A unique, exclusive opportunity to network in a relaxed and friendly environment. Those attending included property giants such as JLL, CBRE, Knight Frank and Workman, as well as leading architectural practices, journalists and representatives from well-known establishments such as Eton College, Somerset House, The National Gallery and many prestigious 5-star hotels.

To add a touch of glamour, champagne and summer cocktails were served along with delightful canapés and barbecue for the guests to enjoy throughout the warm summer evening.

Music was provided by the talented solo-guitarist James Edgar, who brilliantly helped add to the buzzy atmosphere. And to top the event, a classy souvenir to every guest, having their silhouette immortalised by the hands of the exceptionally impressive silhouettist Charles Burns.

Managing Director of Thomann-Harry®, Mark Styles, commented, “Our aim is to provide us both with the opportunity to get to know each other better, whilst networking with fellow industry colleagues. We’ve been welcoming clients and industry leaders to our annual summer party for eight years now. Every July it’s fantastic to see so many using the opportunity to network and socialise with others in this thriving sector. We hope our guests enjoyed it and we look forward to welcoming them back next year.”

Thomann-Harry® are London-based world-leading façade cleaners also specialised in the restoration of stonework. Past two years have seen them working on prestigious landmarks and historic architectural gems such as King’s College in Cambridge, Somerset House, The National Gallery and The Reform Club; London hotels including Sofitel St James’s and the most prestigious theatres in the West End.
