Ramone's new track 'Daemon-"Noetic" prod by atomprods' is worthy of anyone's attention whose innovative musicality and rap style is trending heavily.

Kansas City, Dec 31, 1969 (Issuewire.com) - It has been an incredible year for Rap music with talented artists like Ramone showing up incredibly crafted soundscapes that are sure to raise an eyebrow among the crowd. His tracks are exotic with world beat groove that gives listeners a pretty good idea as to what his sound is all about. His style is not beholden to the conventional parameters that prevent many from achieving mainstream success. The mood is upbeat, as the tempo with the melodic bass line and heavy pulsation cushioning the structure of his free-flowing verses. There's a bit of raw and unique rhythm section that reaches straight to the heart. He's too enigmatic with his compositions and artfully uses the brittle design of the rhythm to portray his emotions. The way he delivers the rap throughout easily weighs down the track with quite an impact.

'"Daemon-"Noetic" prod by atomprods' is an energetic melodic treat for hip-hop and rap fans and it's a fair representation of what Ramone can do with his creativity put to test limitations. The track starts on a soothing instrumental note followed by swinging beats that are well compensated with his vocal spectrum. It's safe to say that the placement of this song amidst surrounding songs is sure to overshadow others with its energy and intensity.

His compositions have a very unique sound and come to us in excellent packaging of emotion fused lyricism and vocal tuning. The tracks are quite addictive to listen when played at volume and fills the room with a hard rock vibe and heavy-hitting grooves. There's no denial to the fact that Ramone's musicality is a total treat to the audience's ears making it widely popular.
