Dr McKenzie is a member of several professional organizations, including the American College of Osteopathic Surgeons, the New York Society of Osteopathic Physicians, the American Osteopathic Association, and the Cleveland Vascular Society. Additionally, he is a founding member and Director of Physicians for Humanity.

Vascular surgery is a surgical subspecialty in which diseases of the vascular system, or arteries, veins and lymphatic circulation, are managed by medical therapy, minimally-invasive catheter procedures, and surgical reconstruction. A vascular surgeon diagnoses, treat and manages conditions in the arteries and veins, also called the blood vessels. These specialists treat a range of health problems, from spider and varicose veins to life-threatening aneurysms, and can help patients manage chronic conditions throughout their lives.

In his spare time, Dr McKenzie enjoys fitness, nutrition, and education. He has a beautiful wife and two children. He is an active member at the First Presbyterian Church in Norfolk, Virginia. He is also highly involved in the community where he gives back by volunteering for the local homeless shelter.
