

Kasidie has released their niche website Kasidie.org in order to attract monoclinoous singles.

Bisexuality is increasingly favored by dating Company

Capshaw, Aug 29, 2019 (IssueWire.com) - In August of this year, Kasidie set up a sub-brand Kasidie.org through conference decision. Kasidie.org is designed for monoclinoous and Bi-curious. The site is completely different from the layout and looks of the company's main site, with a more glamorous couple as the background. The head of Kasidie said: "The design concept of our website is outdated, which has caused us to lose a lot of users. In the future, we will test more functions and designs for the new station. If the effect is good, we will gradually increase. On the main station of Kasidie."

With the development of people's economy, people seem to prefer to pursue sexual freedom. Bisexuality not only pursues freedom but also come from wealthy, highly literate, highly educated people. In the eyes of dating companies, have the ability to consume, which means they can generate revenue for the site. Kevin added: "The bisexual thought is more open, more popular on the dating platform, and we are willing to accept all bisexuality."

Recently, media organizations have found that monoclinoous adolescents have serious problems with alcoholism and drug addiction. But this does not affect Kasidie's decision. Kasidie believes that everyone has the power to love and be loved. We cannot wear colored eyes to look at others or even discriminate against others.

Kasidie.org released the App on Apple and Android, and imitated Tinder to simplify the filling of personal information, has increased the sliding match function, and hired a large number of customer service to strictly review the fake profile.
