

Negin Behazin, MD, MSc, an Internist with Pathway Medical Group

Get to know Dr. Negin Behazin, who serves patients in Garden Grove, California.

New York City, Aug 12, 2019 (Issuewire.com) - Dr. Behazin is a primary care physician affiliated with Pathway Medical Group in Garden Grove, California.

Dr. Behazin earned her medical degree from Tehran Azad University in 1998. She later earned a master of science in Pharmacology from Northeastern University in Boston, MA and completed 3 years of a research fellowship at Harvard Medical School, where she authored and co-authored multiple research articles on respiratory mechanics. She then went for residency training and received her post-graduate medical training in internal medicine at St. Mary's Health Center, in St. Louis, MO and St Mary Medical Center in Long Beach, CA in addition to a year of residency training in anesthesiology at the University of Missouri-Columbia. Her current practice focus is to manage chronic and complicated medical problems with an integrative approach. She looks at the human body as one interrelated unit and focuses on targeting the root cause of medical problems rather than the symptoms. She believes in delivering thorough and comprehensive care and prioritizing prevention over treatment. The most rewarding aspect of primary care practice for Dr. Behazin is the opportunity to build long-lasting relationships with her patients and enjoying their friendship.

Internal medicine or general medicine is the medical specialty dealing with the prevention, diagnosis, and treatment of adult diseases. Physicians specializing in internal medicine are called internists. They manage and prevent common and complex diseases by providing comprehensive care and promoting overall wellbeing.
