

Security Today Magazine Selects Allied Universal's HELIAUS® as Product of the Year

HELIAUS® Wins Best New Product in the Software/IT Solutions Category

Santa Ana, Aug 21, 2019 (Issuewire.com) - Security Today magazine, the leading industry media brand providing technology, education and solutions for security professionals, announced that Allied Universal's HELIAUS® – an advanced artificial intelligence platform designed to improve safety and reduce risk by enhancing on-site guarding services, was named Product of the Year in Software/IT Solutions category.

"We are honoured that Security Today magazine selected HELIAUS® for this prestigious honour," said Steve Jones, CEO of Allied Universal. "HELIAUS® is delivering outstanding results for our clients through advanced workflow automation, robust data capture and visualization, and artificial intelligence that understands not only what's likely to happen, but what to do to drive better outcomes."

The Security Today New Product of the Year Award honours the outstanding product development achievements of security equipment manufacturers whose products are considered to be particularly noteworthy in their ability to improve security. Winners were honoured in 40 product award categories.

"In an ever-changing society and security world, I'm always excited to see and study the newest products entered in our New Product of the Year contest, each year," said Ralph C. Jensen, editor in chief of Security Today magazine. "I'm very pleased that many manufacturers take the time to share with us and our readers the products they have designed and brought to fruition. Our world needs technology and benefits from those people who are constantly thinking about new ways to secure the world. There has never been a time in the history of mankind when security efforts are more needed than they are today.”
